

Hockey

Venue: Hockey Centre - Olympic Park
(Semi-finals and finals)

Dates: Wednesday 8 August to
Saturday 11 August 2012

Men's Hockey made its debut at the London 1908 Games, with the first women's competition held in Moscow in 1980. A quick, skilful and exciting sport, Hockey demands speed, power and stamina, as well as a mastery of intricate hand-eye coordination and ball control skills. Top-level Hockey matches now take place on synthetic turf, which allows the ball to roll more smoothly than it does on grass.

Although India and Pakistan dominated the early Olympic competitions, the European nations have more recently shown their strength. The British men's team will be hoping to emulate their predecessors at the Seoul 1988 Olympic Games by winning gold, while the British women will want to improve on the bronze medal that they won at the Barcelona Games of 1992. Be there to cheer them on and watch the tournament unfold!
